Wise Men Still Seek Him

The Magi did not make it to the birth of Jesus. We have no idea exactly how far they traveled or how long it took, but we do know this: They got there late. Jesus had already been born.

We also know they got their directions wrong. They ended up in Jerusalem, the typical place where the king of the Jews would be expected to be born. It took the chief priests and teachers of the law to clarify that the Messiah was to be born in Bethlehem. Bethlehem is roughly nine miles from Jerusalem. Not too bad, when all things are considered. Some estimate the Magi might have traveled some 800 to 900 miles if their home was in Persia. Without benefit of satellite technology, GPS, or an I-phone, they were off by only nine miles. Still in the words of Maxwell Smart, they missed it by just that much.

People have fun at the expense of the Magi. Have you heard the one that goes like this: Do know what would have happened if it had been three wise WOMEN instead of men? They would have asked for directions, arrived on time, helped deliver the baby, cleaned the stable, made a casserole, and brought disposable diapers as gifts!

Maybe Matthew is poking fun at the Magi as well. They are a pretty easy target. One writer acknowledges that within the biblical record there is the slimmest of information about the Magi. There is no mention that there were three or that they were kings. But, “What can be said with some certainty is that these magi were the ancient equivalent of ‘magicians’—they were astrologers and stargazers who tried to get the hang of present and future events by what was in the stars. These were the Jeanne Dixons of old Persia, writing the daily horoscopes for the Baghdad Gazette based on the movements of the heavens. The Magi were what many today would call quacks and maybe even charlatans.”<sup>1</sup> Was Matthew letting us have a laugh at the expense of these so-called “wise men”? For all their wisdom they missed it by just that much.

Walter Brueggemann takes a different approach. He thinks Matthew might be pointing a finger at all the insiders, those who stand firmly within the circle of belonging, all the chosen people of Israel, from the chief priests and scribes and Pharisees right up to Herod, the king of the Jews, and saying, "You all missed it...by just that much." Brueggemann plays with the idea of the biblical text in Isaiah 60 that tells about Jerusalem being rebuilt after the disastrous times of the exile. The prophecy tells how Jerusalem would once again be glorious and radiant and swelling with riches and basking in wealth and reigning in power and that kings and rulers from foreign lands would flock to Jerusalem in worship and adoration. Of course, the Magi show up at Jerusalem. If a king is to come and rule the world, the best place to look is in Jerusalem.

But what if the plan of salvation were more humble? What if the castle would be nothing more than a stable and the throne a lowly manger? What if the king were an infant, and even when he grew to be a man he was the son of a carpenter and a servant who was not above washing feet? Isaiah 60 is a prophecy that leads Magi to seats of power in cities like Jerusalem. The prophet Micah points in a different direction. It is only nine miles away, "but Bethlehem of Ephrathah, though you are small among the clans of Judah, out of you will come who will be ruler over Israel." (Micah 5:2)

Say what you will about the Magi, but we all have something to learn from those wise guys from the east. From the Royal City they looked up to the sky and saw the star moving toward the little town just nine miles south of Jerusalem. And they followed the star. When it came to rest over the place where Mary was holding her baby child they were overjoyed. They bowed down and they worshiped. Missed it by just that much? No, these wise guys got it just right.

An Advent devotional for children (and adults, too) will be available on Sunday, December 3rd.

These daily readings can deepen your Advent season and help children learn about the signs and symbols that announce the birth of Jesus.

The Angel Tree is set up at the back of the Sanctuary. We have two tags per child. Each tag has two wishes and two needs per child. You can purchase one need and one wish per tag, which will satisfy each child, but of course, they would welcome more. Whatever you are comfortable giving is great. The Jonnycake Center has a "North Pole" from which they supplement.

Gifts are to be under the Angel Tree by Sunday, December 10th. Please label each of the bags with the number on your ticket. You may include wrapping paper, but please do not wrap the gifts. The parents are given the gifts with the paper to wrap the gifts.

If you do not wish to shop, you may pick up gift cards for groceries and leave them in the Church Office.

Thank you for your assistance during the holiday season to put a smile on a child in need.
—The Deacons

Dear Friends,

Thank you for all your prayers, telephone calls, offers to help, and the get-well cards you sent that Bill enjoyed so much. They always brought a smile and he would say, "Wasn't that nice of them to think of me." Thank you for the sympathy cards and notes you have sent to me. You have helped us both with your thoughtfulness for us.

My sincerest thanks to you all,

Christine Day

PRESBYTERIAN
WOMEN

On Wednesday, November 8th, Presbyterian Women held the first workshop for "Dress a Girl Around the World." It was attended by 18 women who came prepared to sew, cut, pin, iron and were ready to make a dress for a worthy girl in Africa. Members from church and friends and neighbors were there drawn by the importance of the mission. Five women brought their sewing machines to the workshop, and we were all busy getting our dress ready to be stitched.

The dresses are of very colorful materials which also include a pocket and a label on the outside. When the dresses are completed they are then given to a representative from the organization who will deliver them to the village herself.

Presbyterian Women met on Monday, November 13th in Fellowship Hall. We discussed the luncheon hosted by the Central Baptist Church on October 21st with Peggy Johnson as guest speaker. It was decided that we should reciprocate sometime in the spring and invite them to hear Lorraine Michaud speak about our Family Housing Support program and possibly provide lunch.

We also heard rave reviews about the "Dress a Girl Around the World" workshop which was held on Wednesday, November 8th. About fifteen dresses were made, some of which will be finished at home but representatives of the organization will deliver the dresses to the right destination.

Our next meeting will take place on Monday, December 11th. We are not planning on having lunch, so our meeting will begin at 1 p.m. We will decorate the three trees for our Family Housing Support program and sort and package gifts for the children.

There will be no meeting in January, but we are looking forward to the "Soup Sale" on Sunday, February 11th. If you have a favorite soup to share, please join us! The proceeds will benefit the mission trip to Houston, Texas in the spring.

Diamonds Among Us!

Coach Mike's Corner . . .

On Tuesday, November 7th our Teen Team had the pleasure of speaking with retired NFL Punter Derrick Frost from his home in St. Louis. Here are some snippets of our conversation.

Teen Team: Do you miss playing in the NFL?

Derrick: I enjoyed my time playing but no, I do not miss it. I currently own a financial firm and very wealthy people entrust me with investing their assets. I love numbers, so I really enjoy what I do. I was blessed to have an internship during my time playing with the Redskins. That helped prepare me for life after football. I also enjoy spending time at home with my wife and kids.

Teen Team: Who was your role model growing up?

Derrick: In terms of football players I also admired how Barry Sanders carried himself. He was a class act on and off the field—very humble and went about his business in a first class manner.

Teen Team: What would you be doing today if you hadn't played in the NFL?

Derrick: Honestly, I've never given that any thought. I always move forward and live life with no regrets or what-ifs. I think that's an important lesson to learn, one I try to pass along to my children now. If you commit to something, finish it!

Teen Team: You've participated in Michael's "Speak Out to Reach Out" tour. What words of encouragement do you leave students with and what would you like to leave us with?

Derrick: Always think forward and do not worry about what others may have to say. When I was in school, my friends would talk behind my back and say, "There's no way he'll ever make it to the NFL," and I understood why they may have thought that way. I, however, never bought into that. I always kept moving forward and as life would have it, I made it to the NFL and had a nice career!

We thank Derrick for taking the time to be an inspiration to our DCCCP Teens.

Mike Walton

Retired NFL Punter Derrick Frost

Professional career

In 2003, Derrick was signed by the Philadelphia Eagles as an undrafted rookie free agent, but eventually wound up being signed by the Cleveland Browns. He completed two seasons at Cleveland before moving to the Washington Redskins.

Washington Redskins

In the 2006 season Frost had success with nine 40+ punts. Also he had a couple of 50 plus punts for the Redskins of late after Week 12 in the league.

During the 2007 preseason game against the Tennessee Titans, Frost raced out after a punt to level the Titan's punt returner causing a forced fumble.

In 2008, he battled rookie Durant Brooks for the punting job. He was cut on August 30 during final cuts.

Green Bay Packers

Two days after being released by the Redskins, Frost was signed by the Green Bay Packers, who previously cut Jon Ryan. Frost was released by the Packers on December 1, 2008. Head coach, Mike McCarthy, stated that Frost performed well in practices, but did not do well during the games.

California Redwoods

Frost was signed by the California Redwoods of the United Football League on September 2, 2009. He was released on October 25, 2009.

Post Football

Frost is president of Pro Fusion Financial and is a member of the board of directors of the NFLPA.

Mission

MISSION PROJECT: Dress A Girl Around the World (DAG)

We are collecting items for our Dress a Girl Around the World mission. Please check to see if you have any of the following items that you could generously donate to our cause.

Please bring items to Fellowship Hall and drop them off in the basket marked Dress A Girl Around the World (DAG):

- 100% cotton fabric that you no longer need in your sewing stash: a yard to a yard and a half would work for dresses. Keep in mind they will be washed in rivers.
  - Please, no white fabrics, holiday prints, words, gingham or see through fabrics.
- For other aspects of our mission, 100% cotton fabric no smaller than 28"x14" is also acceptable.
- Embellishments that could decorate pockets that go on the dresses that you no longer have use for: rick rack, ribbon, eyelets, etc.
- Double-fold bias tape.
- Half inch elastic.

If you have any of the following, please contact Lois Gardner:

- A portable sewing machine you no longer use and would be willing to donate to the church to help people learn to sew and to be used for our mission projects.
- A Serger machine that:
  - You no longer have a need for and would donate for our mission
- OR
- You have a Serger and are interested in being a part of this mission and would happily come to workshops with your Serger.

Please contact Lois Gardner at 401-377-8779 or ltgardnerari@yahoo.com.

Thank you to all who have pledged a donation for the 2018 budget!

As of November 14th, we have received pledges from 105 households. The total amount pledged is $237,896 toward our goal of $254,000. We expect to receive more pledges by the end of the year.

If you have not turned in a pledge card, they are available in the Church pew racks. Please put it in the offering plate or drop it off in the Church Office.

All contributions are appreciated and bring us closer to our budget goals! On behalf of the leaders of the Church, THANK YOU to all who have so generously pledged and given donations.

—Rachel Pierson, Financial Secretary

Charitable Donations and Tax Considerations

Depending on your Income Tax situation, you may want to pay next year's pledge by the end of THIS year, so your gift will be deductible on this year's income tax return. We can credit your donation to your 2018 pledge. Just write "2018 Pledge" on your payment. However, with upcoming changes to tax laws, you should check with your tax advisor first.#

If you have appreciated common stock in your investment portfolio that you have held for more than 12 months, you may transfer that stock directly to the Church instead of selling it. You may avoid paying the capital gains tax, possibly resulting in Federal and State Income Tax savings. Consult with your tax advisor before making any decisions. If you wish to make a transfer, our Office Manager, Luba Preble, can give you more information.#

If you are retired and are at least 70½ years old, you may be receiving a "Required Minimum Distribution" (RMD) from your "Individual Retirement Account" (IRA). Consider using part of your RMD as a charitable contribution. The RMD will not be taxed as individual income, but the distribution will satisfy the required minimum distribution rule. Note: you will not be able to take a deduction for a charitable donation. Contact your IRA representative for more information.

Calling All Christmas Elves!

Are you crafty? Do you like to make things? You are invited to join the volunteers who will be making wreaths and cemetery boxes to raise funds for the Church. Bring your scissors, wire cutters and garden clippers.

We will be working Monday Saturday, November 30th through Saturday, December 2nd, and the following week on Monday, December 4th through Friday, December 8th. We will meet in the basement of the Meeting House from 10am to 6:30pm. Drop in any time.

Most of our wreaths and boxes are created with donated greens and embellishments. Please consider trimming interesting evergreens and branches of berries in your yard. Bring them to fellowship hall.

Deck The Halls . . . and Doors!

Our annual Christmas wreath sale will be held on Sunday, December 3rd from 9am to noon in Fellowship Hall. Many beautiful handmade wreaths will be on sale. We will also offer cemetery boxes and Christmas arrangements.

NEW THIS YEAR! Rachel Pierson and Kim Magro will be selling wreaths and cemetery boxes at the Saturday, December 9th Holiday Bazaar at Ashaway School, 12 Hillside Ave, off Route 3 in Ashaway, RI. The bazaar will be open from 9am to 3pm. The entry fee for the bazaar has been donated so all proceeds from the wreaths and boxes will benefit the Church General Fund.

If you miss the sale at our church, please consider visiting our booth at the Ashaway School Bazaar!

DCCCP Annual Christmas Day Dinner: The Tradition Continues . . .

Christmas is coming....it's a wonderful time of year with the glorious good news that unto us a Savior is born, unto us a Messiah is given.

Yet, for many Christmas doesn't feel wonderful or joyous for as many reasons as there are people. I could list a few but I'd rather not dwell on that aspect. Let's focus on what we can do to bring light, The Light, into the season for those in darkness. For the Light shines in the darkness, but the darkness has not overcome it!

The tradition continues. . . as most of you know our annual Christmas Day dinner was started by our own Sally Scholtz. In 2015 when Sally was diagnosed with a brain tumor, one of her first concerns was her "baby"—her Christmas Day dinner done with love to honor her mother. I can assure you she was truly grateful that the tradition continued that year. The following year Sally had gone home, but we all felt she was with us on Christmas Day when the power was out everywhere but the kitchen. Thanks for smiling down on us, Sally.

Christmas Dinner

For those of you who are new to the church and didn't have the pleasure of knowing Sally, ask around about her. There is a plaque in the Church kitchen that says "Sally's Galley" because that was her domain. Sally loved to cook for others: the Diamonds luncheons, breakfasts, special events, Christmas Day dinners, New Year's Day dinners...you get the idea. While she didn't pass her love of cooking for oodles of people onto me, I did learn a whole lot from her. I was sort of a "cooking apprentice" so to speak. I, however, need more than a little help from our friends. I'm asking for your help in putting on the Christmas Day dinner.

There are various ways to help:

- Sign up to bring something from the list on the bulletin board in Fellowship Hall;
- Or sign up for set up on Christmas Eve after morning worship/fellowship.
- Or sign up to peel, chop, cook and mash potatoes, sweet potatoes and turnips on Saturday, December 23rd. I hope it still smells like turnips on Christmas Eve or it will not be right!
- Or sign up to help Christmas morning if it doesn't interfere with your plans;
- Or come to worship and lunch on Christmas Day—no sign-up required;
- Or sign up to help Christmas afternoon with cleanup.

I told you that I needed a lot of help from my friends! Thank you in advance!

Please help get the word out too! The more the merrier!

Special thanks to my turkey angels: Christine F., Lorraine M., Sally O. and Tina C!

Extra special thanks to the generosity of Tony and Cheryl S., my very own Christmas angels!

Come into the Light! Come join us Christmas Day for worship at 11am and dinner at 11:30am.

Merry Christmas!
Pat Rychlec
